Reds Resume Bombardment of Quemoy Beaches

TUESDAY DEADLINE FOR JUSTICE DEPT TO REPLY TO OBJECTIONS TO DAM

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government gets another opportunity tomorrow to offset objections by Seneca Indians to proposed construction of an 111 million dollar flood control dam at Kinzua, Pa.

The date is the deadline for the Justice Department's reply to a brief filed by the Senecas in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

The government's answer is expected to say that Congress' intent in approving construction of the dam is clear, and that no special legislation is needed to give the long-awaited project the go-ahead. A court hearing is not expected for some weeks.

Maine Leads Country to Ballot Box

By DOUGLAS B. COWNE

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Maine leads the rest of the country to the ballot box for the last time today in an election pivoting around a vital race for the U.S. Senate.

Republican Frederick G. Payne relied on his Washington experience and a sort of mutual assistance pact with President Eisenhower to fend off the challenge to his Senate seat.

The challenger is Edmund S. Muskie, a popular two-term governor and the best Democratic vote getter ever produced in the Pine Tree State.

The outcome in Maine will help cut the campaign pattern for the congressional election in all the other states in November. The way Maine votes may supply the tipoff on the extent to which Democrats generally will raise questions about the rectitude and foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

But never again will national political attention focus on a September election.

Ike Brief Up on Developments in Far East Crisis

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today got reports on latest developments in the Far East crisis—including Red China's renewed artillery bombardment of the Nationalists' embattled Quemoy Island.

The vacationing President received the reports in a telephone talk with the White House staff secretary, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor, who was in Washington.

The President arranged to talk by phone later with Secretary of State Dulles, also in Washington. The word the Chinese Communists had resumed bombardment of Quemoy—after a lull of 2½ days—came less than 24 hours after the President had served new notice that free world allies bound under the Southeast Asia Treaty will stand firm against the general Communist challenge.

The President was cautiously hopeful about peace in the Far East as he served notice free world allies will stand firm against the Communist challenge.

Campaign Headquarters for 1958 Chest Drive Announced

The following news release was issued from Community Chest headquarters in the Warren Bank & Trust Co. Building this afternoon:

Campaign headquarters for the 1958 Community Chest drive opened today in Room 304, Warren Bank and Trust Building. The office will be open Monday through Friday, until the close of the campaign scheduled for the week of October 13th.

Byron W. Knapp, President of the Community Chest will be general chairman for the drive to raise $83,210 and Charles E. Franter will serve as campaign director. Mrs. Allan Koebly will be office secretary and the office telephone number is 3351.

Next week, Mr. Knapp will announce names of the campaign committees as well as chairmen for the following divisions: Special Gifts, Industrial, Commercial, Residential, Government and Schools; North Warren, Starbuck, Glade and Pleasant Townships.

This year's goal is 12% higher than in 1957, but will enable the Community Chest to allot funds to the 10 participating agencies which are somewhat nearer the amounts needed to carry on during the coming year.

The ten agencies which benefit from the Community Chest drive are: Warren County Council Boy Scouts; Warren County Council Girl Scouts; Family Service and Children's Aid Society; Child Health Center; YWCA; YMCA; Warren Visiting Nurses; Warren Relief Association; Salvation Army; and United Service Organization, U. S. O.

PINE GROVE YOUTH ELECTROCUTED

Legal Action Simmers In Two States In Nation's Crisis Over Integration

Upset Expected!

Gov. Edmund Muskie, above, may be the first Democratic U. S. senator from Maine in 40 years. He opposes incumbent Republican Sen. Frederick G. Payne in the state's jump-the-gun election. NEA Telephoto.

By The Associated Press
Legal action simmered in Arkansas and Virginia today at the start of a week of decision in the nation's integration crisis.

The decision was expected to come after Thursday's U. S. Supreme Court hearing on the Little Rock case—a decision that may have decisive influence on the speed of integration in the South.

On the meantime legal maneuvering continued and a slowly growing number of children attended mixed classes in border states. The Deep South remained segregated, however.

At Van Buren, a northwest Arkansas city, U. Simpson Tate, regional counsel for the NAACP, was making legal plans for the return of 13 Negroes to Van Buren High School despite threats of some white pupils to block integration by force. He declined to say what kind of action he would take.

Integration resistance flared last Tuesday, the start of the fall term, when hostile white youths greeted Negroes with jeers and warnings to stay away. About 45 whites cut classes Thursday and Friday and staged a boycott demonstration outside the school. The Negroes stayed away from classes Friday.

In Virginia, the state's legal battle to avoid mixing the races in the schools headed for a test in U. S. Dist. Judge John Paul's court at Harrisonburg.

Protesting parents of 30 Negro pupils denied admission to Charlottesville white schools are to appear before him along with school board officials. The judge also has asked attorneys for 26 Negro children to have an order ready for his signature. This order would enjoin the Warren County School Board from barring the 26 children from the county's only high school—now all white.

The situation in two other Virginia localities apparently depended on the outcome of Thursday's Supreme Court hearing. Dist. Judges Walter Hoffman and Albert Bryan have said they would be guided in their deliberations on the Norfolk and Arlington suits by what the high court decides.

Over the weekend, Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) said at Little Rock he felt the integration crisis could not be solved in the South until the Supreme Court modified its 1954 desegregation decision. He was interviewed on local television. Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus told a state Democratic convention the Supreme Court and the Eisenhower administration lacked the common sense and moderate thinking which could ease the threat of integration violence.

Perryopolis Having Trouble With Juveniles

PERRYOPOLIS, Pa. (AP)—Nineteen juveniles and eight older youths were in trouble with authorities because they allegedly armed themselves and cruised Perryopolis in cars.

Police Chief Lou Marchak said he and other borough officials rounded up the youths Saturday night. Marchak said they found a blackjacks, ice picks, iron bars, screw drivers and baseball bats in their possession.

The juveniles were turned over to Fayette County juvenile authorities. The older boys were fined $10 apiece. All are from Uniontown.

Marchak said the youths had been feuding with Perryopolis boys several weeks about girls who attend dances at a skating rink near here. He said trouble first flared up Friday night, and the rink was closed to prevent violence.

KOREAN ATTACK

SEOUL, (AP)—South Korean Defense Ministry sources said six or seven Communist North Korean soldiers staged a pre-dawn attack today along the demilitarized zone, killing one South Korean soldier and wounding another.

Roger C. Swanson Victim Of Unusual Accident While Piloting Model Airplane

A Pine Grove township youth, graduate of Warren High School class of 1954, was almost instantly killed in an unusual accident while flying a hand-controlled gasoline-driven model airplane on the farm of James Keller, near Akeley, about five o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Victim of the freak tragedy was Roger Clyde Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Swanson, RD 2, Akeley, who celebrated his 23rd birthday anniversary Saturday.

According to information given by Coroner Ed Lowrey and Sheriff L. E. Linder, who joined in the investigation, young Swanson, in company with a couple of neighbors, James Keller and Laverne Durling, young men about his own age, was flying the plane with the use of a hand-controlled wire purchased recently in Jamestown. The two strands of thin metal wire were attached to a grip held in the hand, with portions of the anchor wires extending through the back of the plastic holder. Without warning the plane glided into a high powered line carrying 7,200 volts, serving customers of the REA.

Swanson was knocked to the ground, according to Keller and Durling, but managed to get to his feet in a dazed and staggering condition. When they suggested he needed medical help, he collapsed, and fell to the ground again. Help was summoned and the Russell ambulance responded with a physician from that place. The inhalator was used for some time before the victim was pronounced dead. It is believed he died instantly when he fell to the ground the second time.

Only injury sustained in the accident was a burn mark in the flesh between the right thumb and hand, where he was holding onto the plastic grip. Officials report that the ground where Swanson was standing at the time was quite damp from recent rains, which probably contributed to the force of the shock from the high voltage wire.

Young Swanson was born September 6, 1935, on the farm where he resided all his life. Since graduating with the class of 1954 in Warren High he has been employed at the Marlin-Rockwell plant in Jamestown. He served an enlistment with the Aviation Reserves, and was a member of the Wiltzie Community church. Besides his parents he is survived by a brother Gerald and his grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Swanson, Akeley.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, with the Rev. Wayne Ostrander officiating, and interment following in Pine Grove cemetery.

Retired General Says Islands Are Important

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Retired Air Force Gen. George C. Kenney says the United States must show it is willing to fight for Formosa or the Red Chinese will invade Quemoy and Matsui.

"Those islands are vital to Formosa's defense," the 69-year-old Kenney told newsmen here Sunday. "If Formosa goes, you can kiss goodbye to Japan and the Philippines as our allies. Nobody in Asia would pay any attention to us if we let Formosa go to the Communists."

Kenney, who directed the aerial offense against Japan in the southwest Pacific during World War II, was here to address the Air Force Assn.

Highway Dept Is Busy Paying Off Land Owners

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department disclosed today it is handling 700 right-of-way claims a month under a speeded-up program of paying off property owners affected by road construction.

The biggest feature of the acceleration program provides for paying off 75 per cent of the claims immediately, with the remainder held up until differences are settled.

Chief Counsel John R. Rezzolla said more than 7,000 claims would be handled in 1958 compared to 5,000 last year and only 3,200 the year before.

"We're moving as fast as conditions will allow," he told a newsmen. "Actually, our new program is paying off property owners in a matter of weeks when before it was a matter of months or years."

Rezzolla was asked about recent criticism by Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican flood leader, that property damage checks were delayed for road construction near Stroudsburg this year.

The highway attorney acknowledged the delay and blamed it on an error at a lower administrative level. When it was discovered, he said, the department set up a special task force to clean up the claims on an expedited basis.

One Killed in Flaming Three-Car Collision

IRWIN, Pa. (AP)—A flaming three-car collision Sunday night on Route 30 near this Westmoreland County community killed Joseph Messineo Jr., 22, of East Pittsburgh, one of the drivers.

Police said Messineo was burned beyond recognition and identification had to be made through a wrist watch, two rings and a crucifix.

A companion, Carol Churik, 18, of North Braddock, escaped from the flaming auto. Passersby helped smother the fire that caught her clothing. She was treated at Westmoreland Hospital, then released.

Another driver, James Rogachewsky, 27, of Wendel, was admitted to Westmoreland Hospital in satisfactory condition with a head injury.

Joseph A. Kruzek, 28, of McKeesport, the driver of the other car, his wife and their three-year-old son were not hurt.

17 Die Accidentally In State Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 17 people died accidentally in Pennsylvania over the post-Labor Day weekend.

Thirteen of them died in automobile accidents, a man drowned, two men were electrocuted and another died of burns suffered when he was sprayed with flaming gasoline.

Two of the automobile victims were children, killed Saturday when stock cars, racing at the Lehigh Valley Fair Grounds, crashed through barriers into spectator sections.

NATIONALIST AMMUNITION SHIP IS REPORTED BLOWN UP DURING THE SHELLING

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI (AP)—Communist shore batteries blew up a Nationalist ammunition ship on Quemoy beach today as the Red gun resumed bombardment of the Nationalist offshore island after 2½ days of self-imposed silence.

Although U. S. warships presumably had escorted the ammunition ship to the Quemoy area, there was no report of American vessels being in the vicinity of the bombardment.

The American command on Formosa refused to say whether U. S. ships had escorted a convoy to Quemoy today.

The heaviest concentration of fire was reported on the Quemoy beaches in an apparent attempt to stop unloading of supplies.

The Nationalist defense ministry said the red guns unleashed a very heavy bombardment in the early afternoon but that the volume of fire became sporadic later.

The Nationalist-held Tan Islets nearby also were targets, along with Quemoy and adjacent Little Quemoy.

Unconfirmed reports said Nationalist planes made their first bombing runs of the Formosa Strait war against mainland gun positions after the shelling of Quemoy resumed. The Nationalists had announced they would bomb the Red artillery posts if the Communists resumed their attack.

These same reports said Nationalist planes were locked in a furious dogfight over Weitou, 7½ miles northeast of Quemoy where the Communists have their biggest guns. The Weitou guns have been blamed for the artillery attacks both on Quemoy beach and on the main military hospital in Quemoy.

Strike Called In Venezuela After Rioting

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A general strike closed this troubled capital today in the wake of another military attempt to seize power from a government junta striving to restore democracy in Venezuela.

Union leaders threatened to continue the walkout until their demands for disbanding rebellious military police and for disciplining some army officers were met.

Eight hours of street fighting in downtown Caracas reportedly killed about 20 persons and left 200 wounded. Most of the casualties were said to be unarmed youngsters who played a major part in laying siege to the rebel headquarters downtown.

Two Children in California Are Lightning Victims

BIG BEAR LAKE, Calif. (AP)—Lightning cracked down from a sudden storm and killed two children and injured a third while their father, former All America football player Bob Reinhard, watched helplessly from a bluff on the lake.

A moment after the tragedy Sunday the storm ended and this lake resort in the San Bernardino Mountains was bathed in sunshine.

The lightning bolt exploded into a plywood shack on the lake's shore where the three youngsters had ducked out of the downpour.

More Talks With Red China Planned by United States

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States prepared today for hoped-for early talks with Red China, but kept high its guard against Communist military action in the embattled Formosa Strait.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam in Warsaw awaited notice from Chinese Communist Ambassador Wang Ping-nan there that the talks could start.

But the memory that Red China did some of its fiercest fighting in Korea during armistice talks kept the U. S. 7th Fleet on alert around Formosa.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai said over the weekend that he favored a renewal of U. S.-Red China ambassadorial talks on "safe-guarding the peace in the Far East." The United States had tried twice last month to get the talks going again, so the White House warmly welcomed the offer.

Ambassador Beam's orders were to wait a few days and, if no word came from Ambassador Wang, to call the Communist envoy and find out when he was prepared to meet in Warsaw.

Western diplomats braced for a new Communist push to seat Red China in the United Nations. They said the Red Chinese bombardment of the Nationalist offshore islands clearly was aimed not only at probing U. S. intentions but also at stirring up a ruckus on the eve of the 13th U. N. General Assembly starting Sept. 16 in New York.

U. S. determination to carry a big stick while talking softly was evident in the activities of the 7th Fleet. For the first time during daylight Sunday, the U. S. warships convoyed Nationalist supply ships from Formosa to the offshore islands, and it was disclosed they had been doing the same at night since Wednesday.

The Red Chinese made no effort to interfere.

Not all Red China's actions over the weekend were conciliatory. The Chinese Communist regime's Central Committee announced full mobilization had been ordered.

TV Burglaries Are Solved by Picking Up Young Men

LeRoy D. Flasher, 21, of RD 2, Sugar Grove, who made a short specialty of taking television sets from uninhabited camps and houses, pleaded guilty to burglary charges last week when apprehended by Warren Sheriff's Department and State Troopers.

He has been bound over for court and the judge will set bail.

Appearing before Peace Justice Fred Berry in Starbrick, Flasher pleaded guilty to burglary of a TV set, TV booster and rifle from the W. W. Hoy home at RD 2, Sugar Grove, sometime between the 15th and 25th of June. He also admitted, according to Chief Deputy Don Allen, taking a TV set from a hunting camp on Cole Hill in Pittsfield Township.

Joseph Conklin, 19, of RD, Tidoute, was picked up by Deputy Allen Friday and charged with helping Flasher make the TV set disappear from the Hoy home. Conklin was expected to deny that charge when he is arraigned before Peace Justice Berry.

State Trooper Cpl. Joe Mastrian, who has been working on the camp burglaries with the Sheriff's Department, was in Cassadaga and Stockton, N. Y., last week helping to pick up several guns which had been unloaded by the VanGulder brothers who set a county record for breaking into 43 hunting camps during the past year.

Today, Cpl. Mastrian and Deputy Allen were back in New York State collecting more stolen items taken from camps and bartered for cash in second hand stores.

VanGulders are awaiting an appearance in Quarters Sessions court for sentencing after pleading guilty on all counts. No bail has yet been set.

Red Cross Blood Program Meets Latest Emergency

The importance of the Red Cross Blood Program to this community was again demonstrated last Saturday night when one of the local pediatricians called the Red Cross and asked for a "live" donor with O negative blood. In less than twenty minutes a live donor was at the hospital giving his blood and the long tedious process of completely replacing the blood of an RH negative baby was underway. Happily for everyone, the baby survived and is well and happy.

Not only does the Red Cross Blood Program provide a stock of whole blood at the hospital for the usual day to day needs, but most any emergency can be met, and quickly. In the Red Cross office every person who has ever been a donor has a permanent card with his address, telephone number and blood type. A different colored card is used for each type and RH factor (positive or negative), which helps to save those precious minutes which may mean life or death.

Emergencies such as last Saturday night don't happen every day but a check with Red Cross officials shows that no less than sixteen live donors were sent to the hospital during the month of July alone. As we all know, the Red Cross supplies all the facilities for making the blood available when needed at no cost, but they cannot supply the blood. You can. Let's keep the supply available which reminds us that the Bloodmobile will be in Sheffield on Wednesday, September 10.

Mother of 3 Who Bounced Checks Is Apprehended

A short, pudgy Clermont woman who was accompanied by her 5-year-old daughter during a bad check passing spree in Warren last week, pleaded guilty to false pretense Saturday after being returned here by Police Chief Mike Evan who had picked her up on a hunch.

Alberta J. Morcroft, 31, alias "Lucille Haney", was found in the hunting camp where she lived with her three children near Clermont. After a few questions by Chief Evan the experienced check passer readily confessed to her crime and was brought back for arraignment before Peace Justice Martha Lawson.

The woman, whose husband had divorced her for similar behavior, admitted passing two checks in the amount of $76.85, and two others for $77.84 Mercantile outlets where the checks were passed in exchange for a few dollars worth of merchandise and several dollars in change were Grace Aberg's, E. B. Anderson's store, Tiny Town and Carter's Shoe Store.

She admitted picking up a blank check book in Warren National Bank.

The five-year-old girl who accompanied her mother to Warren last Wednesday when the offenses took place was at home when police arrived. She and the woman's two other children aged 10 and 14 were put in custody of their grandmother.

Chief Deputy Tom Pendleton of Smithport pointed out the hunting camp location. He had known the woman for previous offenses. Officers said she had broken her husband into the bum check passing act before he left her.

Mrs. Morcroft was remanded to county jail in lieu of $2,000 bail and awaits sentencing in Quarter Sessions court.

Officers ventured the opinion that the woman staged her latest series of check passing to gain enough money to make restitution for previous offenses when she was let off with a suspended sentence after she promised to make restitution. She had only about $60 left out of approximately $200.

The family had been on public assistance.

Timely Information About Social Security Amendments

The Social Security Amendments of 1958 will provide increased monthly payments to about 18,000 people in Chautauqua County, N. Y., and Warren County, beginning with the checks which are due early in February 1959, according to Chester R. Norman, social security district manager in Jamestown, N. Y. The amount of the increase will be about 7 percent, although the increase in some checks will be slightly more than 7 percent and it will be slightly less than 7 percent in some others.

People who are getting social security payments do not need to apply for the increase. It will be automatically added to the checks for January, which will be mailed out early in February.

Under other changes made by the law, social security benefits will become payable to a number of people not previously eligible for payments. They must, however, apply to their social security offices before payments can start. Among the group now eligible because of the amendments are:

1. Dependents of people who are 50 or over are now getting disability benefits (children under 18 or disabled; a wife of any age who has a child in her care who is entitled to benefits; a wife 62 or over; or a dependent husband 65 or over).
2. Disabled people 50 or over who could not qualify for benefits under the law because they did not have as much as 1 1/2 years of work in the 3 years before they were disabled. (A total of at least 5 years of work under the law is still required.)
3. Dependent parents whose son or daughter died after 1939 and who can not qualify for benefits under the old law because the son or daughter left a widow, widower, or child.
4. Adopted children whose adopting parents began receiving retirement benefits less than 3 years after the adoption. In many cases this provision will also make possible payments to the mother of the adopted child.)
5. A person receiving benefits who marries another person also receiving benefits can continue to receive monthly checks, or can become eligible as a dependent of the new husband or wife without waiting 3 years.

Some people in situations similar to those mentioned above may have applied for benefits in the past and been notified that they did not qualify for payments. These people should get in touch with their social security district office promptly about filing new applications, Mr. Norman noted.

Disabled workers whose social security disability benefits were reduced or were not payable because they received workmen's compensation or other Federal disability payments will begin to receive the full amount of their social security disability payments. (These people do not have to file applications. Their social security checks will be started automatically with checks mailed out early in September.)

Under the amendments it is easier for certain employees of non-profit organization and State and local governments to be brought under the law.

There is a slight change in the rules on how much a social security beneficiary may earn and still get social security benefits. Under a new provision a person's social security benefit will not be withheld for any month in which he neither worked in his own business nor earned over $100 in wages.

Beginning January 1, 1959, the social security tax rate for employees and employers will be 2 1/4 percent each. The rate for self-employed people will be 3 percent. These rates are scheduled to increase every 3 years until they reach 4 1/4 percent for employees and employers and 6 percent for self-employed people in 1969.

Starting with 1959 the first $4800 of earnings in a year will be taxed for social security and will count toward social security benefits.

The Jamestown, N. Y. social security district office is at 312 Hotel Jamestown, Jamestown, N. Y. It is open from Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Other social security offices are as follows: Dunkirk, N. Y., City Hall Bldg. Open every Monday and Thursday from 12:00 noon to 2:00 p. m.; Silver Creek, N. Y. # Traffic Runs Riot in the County; Five Are Injured

At least five persons received a variety of injuries Friday night and early Saturday as traffic ran riot in Warren County.

Most severely injured was Donald Clymer, 27, of Cobham Park Road. He sustained fairly severe face and shoulder injuries, according to a hospital spokesman, when his automobile failed to make the sharp curve on Jackson street extension just outside the borough line about 3 a. m. Saturday.

His condition was described as "good" after undergoing surgery at Warren General Hospital Saturday afternoon. His northbound car had an estimated $800 damages.

Two Warren young people received minor head bruises about 10:38 p. m. Friday after the driver took off his shoe and was putting it in the back seat, according to what was told the police.

Officers said David C. Honhart, 17, of 305 Fourth avenue was proceeding north up Liberty street when his attention was apparently distracted by the shoe-off caper. His vehicle plowed into a parked car owned by Bruce Gross of 518 West Fifth avenue. Both vehicles sustained $150 damages. A passenger sustained a forehead bump.

At 12:30 a. m. Saturday, Tom Federchuk, 17, of Youngsville, was heading west on legislative route 61059 about two miles north of Tidoute, when his machine failed to make a right curve and bashed into a pole. He sustained head bruises, the car sustained $250 in damages.

At 7:25 p. m. Friday, steel was scattered on legislative route 61012 at Davy Hill near Pittsfield when Lewis Funk, 37, of Irvine, lost control of his westbound machine on a sharp curve and plowed into an embankment. He was treated at the hospital for facial lacerations and released. Damage to the car was estimated at $400 by troopers.

Life Imprisonment Is Verdict in Line Case

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Elmer Linde, 55, an Ellwood City machinist, faces life imprisonment today after being convicted of first degree murder in the pistol slaying of Mrs. Ruth Nolan in her Hempfield Twp. Home.

A jury fixed the penalty at life imprisonment in convicting Linde Saturday. Formal sentencing was deferred.

Pennsylvania law requires juries to set the penalty at life imprisonment or death when returning first degree murder verdicts.

Linde stood motionless when the five women and seven men jurors returned the verdict after deliberating almost six hours.

Police accused Linde of killing Mrs. Nolan after she tried to break off their romance. Linde testified that he was wounded by Mrs. Nolan before the fatal shots were fired.

Pittsburgh District Food Stores Face Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A strike that would affect 3,400 union members in 123 A. & P. stores in Western Pennsylvania and parts of Ohio and West Virginia is set for midnight Wednesday.

Employees of A. & P. food stores in the Pittsburgh district voted Sunday to strike to enforce their demands in negotiations for a new contract. The union contract expired at midnight Sunday.

The workers, members of Local 590, Food Employees Union, voted in favor of striking after rejecting a company offer of a three-year pact providing wage increases of 10 cents an hour the first year, eight cents the second and eight the third.

Current wage scales were not made public.

Life Imprisonment Is Verdict in Line Case

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Elmer Linde, 55, an Ellwood City machinist, faces life imprisonment today after being convicted of first degree murder in the pistol slaying of Mrs. Ruth Nolan in her Hempfield Twp. Home.

A jury fixed the penalty at life imprisonment in convicting Linde Saturday. Formal sentencing was deferred.

Pennsylvania law requires juries to set the penalty at life imprisonment or death when returning first degree murder verdicts.

Linde stood motionless when the five women and seven men jurors returned the verdict after deliberating almost six hours.

Police accused Linde of killing Mrs. Nolan after she tried to break off their romance. Linde testified that he was wounded by Mrs. Nolan before the fatal shots were fired.

State Officials Cite Need For Air Pollution Curtailing

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—The name "Donora" rings a warning bell in the division of the State Health Department devoted to air pollution.

In that southwestern mining borough nine years ago next month, a caprice of the weather trapped contaminated smoke for several days. About half the population—7,000 persons—were made seriously ill. Some 20 died.

Could it happen again?
"Yes," Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, health secretary, and Victor Sussman, chief of the air pollution section, agreed today.

"Given the right combination of meteorological conditions and pollutants, we could have another Donora disaster," Sussman said. "But chance occurrences such as happened at Donora are not our chief worry. We are more concerned with the long-range cumulative effects of polluted air on the health of the individual."

"Air pollution is an increasing problem," Wilbar added. "There has been an increase in the amount and complexity of pollution in the air.

"We have new types of industries, new complexities of gas being produced. It is a serious problem."

The state officials claimed there is a need for legislation to permit an attack on air pollution at the statewide level. New Jersey and New York have such state laws. At present air pollution can be controlled only at the local level in Pennsylvania.

Eleven cities, including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; eight townships; twenty-seven boroughs and one county (Allegheny) have local ordinances against air pollution. They cover about 25 per cent of the population.

"Not all of these are effective," Sussman said. "In a number of cases they apply only to what you might call general nuisances. Not all of the municipalities can afford a specialist on air pollution and they assign a regular official, usually the water or streets commissioner, to enforce the ordinance. It is very difficult for them because air pollution as a health hazard is hard to prove."

"Contamination does not usually stop at the city, township or borough line, or even the county line. I have dozens of cases in my files, requests from municipalities which have air pollution ordinances for help to stop pollution from nearby municipalities."

"That's why we have to attack this problem at the state level. Right now we're working on a bill for the next Legislature that would permit us to write rules and regulations for different areas of the state to control types of pollution peculiar to those areas."

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Ransom are home after a visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Quinn, in Wilmington, Del., and with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin at Harrison, Del. They were accompanied home by their son, Al/c William Wade "Penny" Ransom, home from Turkey for a 21-day leave. En route, he spent two days in Rome. His plane also stopped at Bermuda, remaining there two days because of the hurricane before continuing on to Charleston, S. C. In good health and enjoying the cooler climate, he expects to report to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., for his next assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clough have returned to their home in Pittsfield after spending August in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Moniak, spending two days in Lexington, Neb., were accompanied home by their son, Bill. Bill plans to attend Jamestown Community College until baseball training starts in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jones have had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neil, Newark, N. J.

Timberland Owners Honored

Gov. Leader declared that a forest has four major uses—timber production, beauty, water and soil protection and recreation. The "wonderful thing" about forests, he said, is that all four uses can go together under wise forest management or tree farming.

The Tree Farm program in Pennsylvania is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Forest Industries Committee, representing wood dependent industries of the state, with the cooperation blue ribbon forestry group. Owners must demonstrate that they are protecting their wood from fire, insects, disease and destructive grazing while harvesting trees in a manner to assure continuing forest growth.

Receiving the awards were: Walter H. Palmer, Warfordsburg; Walter Small, Cooperstown; Fred W. Shearer, Willow Hill; James H. Carpenter, Jr., Bel Air, Md. (lands in Potter County); Boyer Kantz, Mansfield; Rex Carpenter, Townville; Hammermill Paper Co., Erie, Pennsylvania Gas Co., Warren; Roy Snivrock, Clearville; and Elmer D. Lantz, Wattsburg.

Gov. Leader said he rejoiced to see private enterprise assuming its share of conservation leadership because "it is upon individual Americans that the burden of conservation must ultimately rest."

The Governor pointed out that of 15 million acres of woodland in Pennsylvania, only 2 million acres are owned by the state, so "obviously, a conservation effort which started and stopped with government would be a crying failure."

Famed World War II Hero Observes Rare Anniversary

By P. D. ELDRED

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Nuclear warfare to a veteran of 57 years active naval service, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, means new tools with the same function.

Contemplating the anniversary of his appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis Sept. 7, 1901, the white-haired World War II commander of the Pacific scanned the foggy Golden Gate from his sunny garden home in the Berkeley Hills and offered some discerning thoughts on nuclear weapons and missiles and atomic-powered submarines.

"I've seen the nucleus of the Navy change from the battleship to the aircraft carrier—the most concentrated unit of power we have now—and I hesitate to say what the Navy will be built around in the years to come."

Of Mr. and Mrs. David Swanson were Eleanor Veeger, Geneseo, N. Y.; Stan Segel, Camden, N. J. The latter has recently returned from Turkey, where he has been employed as a teacher for the past year.

Relatives have received word of the death of George Gilson, former local resident, in Forestville, N. Y., who has several cousins in the vicinity.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Day were her son, S. Warner Cox, and family, Yeadley, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lent enjoyed two weeks' vacation in

The 73-year-old admiral, famed in World War II for his sound judgment and tactical skill, recalled he was given his first submarine command, the Plunger, in 1909.

"The submarine is the one type of vessel in our Navy today that is least vulnerable to nuclear attack," he said. "And the advent of nuclear power has tremendously increased the offensive power of submarines."

"They are much faster, dive deeper and have much greater ability to evade attackers than the old submarines."

"If you try to visualize the Navy in the years to come you can bet there'll be submarines."

"And you can be sure there will be small combat ships—destroyer and escort types—because for the discernable future the commerce of the world is going to be carried on surface ships."

"The aircraft carrier, like any surface vessel, is vulnerable to nuclear weapons but, because of its speed and mobility, it is very difficult to find the carrier."

The admiral, who recently cruised off the California coast in the Nautilus, was high in his praise of this atom-powered submarine and her sister ship, the Skate, for their sensational voyages under the North Pole ice.

Asked about missiles and their possible influence on naval warfare, the admiral was skeptical about the accuracy of intercontinental and intermediate range missiles.

NATIONAL HOME WEEK

As we have learned in these days of skillful advertising and merchandising, building a better mouse trap is not enough to attract buyers, no matter where the factory is. But building a better house, that reflects newer ideas, more living comfort, will bring people to the woods, or most anywhere else, to look at it—and buy it.

Nothing, it seems, is more contagious than excitement over better living—which will account for the millions of people who will participate in National Home Week by visiting the thousands of exhibit homes to be open over the nation from September 6 to 14.

This phenomenon, as put to work by the Fiberglas people last January when housing starts (as the builders call them) were at a low ebb in the face of the coming recession, is actually leading the nation out of its economic slowdown.

Previous research, based on 172 test homes in 81 cities in 29 states, established some startling facts on the cash value of a "comfort engineered" home over one constructed merely to meet the minimum FHA requirements. By employing the Fiberglas specifications on effective attic ventilation, maximum use of insulation and outside shading of windows from hot summer sun, it was found the average house of 1,200 square feet could be heated and air conditioned all year for an average of $10.70 a month!

With 200 builders as its target, the company set out to prevent the double benefits of year-round comfort and average cash savings of $18 for heating and $30 for cooling in all climates of the USA.

To date, 600 builders have joined in the program and have built 40,000 comfort conditioned homes over the nation!

And this would seem to prove that the best way to end a recession is to do things better!

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This is one of the important weeks in American history. The Supreme Court, meeting Thursday, must do two things:

1. Give a decision which will affect the whole course of public school integration.
2. Decide a critical principle in law enforcement: whether mob violence and community antagonism can block a court order.

Specifically, the court will only be hearing arguments on the Little Rock school board's request to delay integration in Central High 2½ years.

The reason: the opposition of Little Rock's white people to integration.

But the far-reaching effect of the Supreme Court's decision—whatever it is—can be seen from this:

Several federal district judges—faced with opposition to integration in their districts this year—indicate they'll be guided by the court's decision.

Integration in Central High began last September under order of a federal judge. Then came mob violence and growing hostility in Little Rock.

Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus blocked the court order with National Guardsmen who kept Negroes out of the school. He said he did it to prevent violence.

Then, to back up the court order by seeing to it the Negroes got into school, President Eisenhower had to keep federalized National Guardsmen in Little Rock all year. Some months ago the board asked, and got from, another federal district judge a 2½-year delay. This was overruled by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals. Thus the case came to the Supreme Court for a final ruling.

The Circuit Court pointed out the broad implications of giving Little Rock a delay simply because of opposition to a court order by white people living there: "An impossible situation could develop. Every school district in which integration is publicly opposed by overt acts would have 'justifiable excuse' to petition the federal district judge then, after consultation with the board, approved the plan and ordered it to begin last September.

It's possible—but highly unlikely—the Supreme Court will permit the public opposition in Little Rock to persuade it to grant the 2½ year delay.

It's possible—but perhaps unlikely—that the court will now spell out just what it means by the phrase "all deliberate speed" as a guide to federal judges who have to make decisions on when to integrate in their districts.

One thing is certain: Although the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation in 1954, integration has been far from speedy.

The New York Times reports that of 2,392 biracial districts in this country, only 792 have been integrated.

Breakfast in Bed

Here and There

Weather in Pennsylvania rarely shows a pattern, and the current growing season certainly bears that out, according to a special release from the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. The weekly crop and weather roundup of the Department's Crop Reporting Service shows that since April 1 of this year there has been a variation of 13.03 inches of rainfall recorded in the Commonwealth. Brookville in Jefferson County has the dubious title of being the wettest spot in the State with 27.63 inches of rain since April 1. On the other hand, Harrisburg has recorded only 14.65 inches of precipitation. There is also a considerable variation of rainfall from normal. The pattern seems to run from west to east with the lower Susquehanna Valley being the driest part of the State. Pittsburgh has had five inches more than normal, Erie three, Williamsport three, Reading half an inch less, Harrisburg two inches less, and Allentown and Scranton each three inches less. However, the pattern stops there because the record for more than normal rainfall is held by Philadelphia which has experienced six inches more rain than usual this crop season.

With tension increasing around Formosa, readers will be interested to learn that The Associated Press has moved in strong reinforcements to bring full coverage of any developments. We have been advised that Forrest Edwards, chief of bureau in Hong Kong, has moved to Taipei to assume general charge of the expanded staff operations. There he joins Spencer Moosa, veteran Taipei correspondent, and Gene Kramer, who was diverted en route from Tokyo to a new assignment in Jakarta. Robert Tuckman, who staffed the Korean peace talks and now is chief of bureau in Honolulu, has been accredited to the 7th Fleet. James Cary of Tokyo's covering the combined U.S.-Nationalist maneuvers in southern Formosa this weekend, then will go to Taipei. Chief of bureau Jim Becker of Manila has deferred his home leave and is on call. So is David Lancashire, just out of Jakarta and now in Singapore on vacation. Photographers Fred Waters of Hong Kong and George Sweers of Tokyo also are on Formosa, and visas have been issued for five Japanese staffers in Tokyo, two photographers and three reporters, who are on standby.

To a growing number of vacationers, scenery is downright silly, fishing is foolish and beaches are a bore...when compared to antique hunting. Once you're aware of antique addicts, you run into them everywhere: The fellow going 200 miles out of his way to pick up "a real good 19th century 'swinging' (a swinging) in case you didn't know is a sort of yoke once used to carry a brace of buckets); millionaires searching for old lustreware commodes and Chippendale cabinets; drugstore clerks carrying the countryside for patent medicine bottles and leaching cups; housewives looking for ancient coffee grinders, wall telephone or bookkeepers' stools; dads on the prowl for old license plates or campaign buttons. Sooner or later the antique bug seems to bite almost everyone. When it does, nothing satisfies the victim but the thrill of a "find". The well-heeled hunter takes the easy cure. He spends his time and money in antique shops. But the biggest thrill to any antique collector is finding an authentic antique before the "professionals" have taken over. Sometimes such "finds" are the money-making kind like that of the vacationist who discovered farmers along the St. John's River in Florida were using furniture shipped down long ago by New England's finest makers. How does one prepare for real fun in this dusty-handed hobby? He generally studies the authentic collections in the museums of different parts of the country. And every library now has books on American antiques so that it is not too difficult for anyone to become an expert on any class of antique articles from the 1640-1840 period, the period most valued by American collectors.

Aid to China Is 'Insurance' For Other Small Countries

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The problem which the United States faces in deciding on military aid to Chiang Kai-shek's defense of Quemoy and Matsu has parallels. It is fundamentally the same problem that the United States had formerly in Korea and Vietnam. It is the same problem, with variations, in Lebanon and Jordan. It is basically whether to recognize the realities of international power politics and to give in to the idea that might makes right in coup or conquest.

Under this postulate, the easy thing to do is to admit that President Chiang Kai-shek is a defeated generalissimo of China. He has been driven out of his homeland to the island of Taiwan or Formosa. He is given little chance of ever returning to head the government of 600 million Chinese people.

THE USEFULNESS of Quemoy and Matsu to Taiwan today is purely military, as an outpost or first line of defense. The question of whether Taiwan could be held if the Red Chinese launched an all-out attack on the island is militarily debatable.

And yet, to maintain the Chinese Nationalist government on Taiwan, the United States has advanced nearly 1.7 billion dollars in economic aid loans and grants. To this must be added unreported hundreds of millions in military assistance and support.

In another even costlier venture of the same sort, the United States has spent 1.8 billion dollars and sustained 142,000 casualties to defend the Republic of South Korea, contribute to its rehabilitation and future security.

No American troops were involved, but the United States has spent another billion dollars in Indo-China for its economic survival and defense against Communist aggression.

Neither the Korean nor Indo-Chinese wars were won by either side and they settled nothing, so what did the United States get out of the more than four billion dollars it has invested in Korea, Indo-China and Taiwan since 1945?

THE OBVIOUS ANSWER given to that question is that any such capitulation would have been a worse surrender than the one which President Eisenhower and the Congressional leaders bawled out the Pentagon brass for reportedly planning.

For the United States to give up in Vietnam, Korea, or Taiwan now would mean giving up next on the Philippines, and then on Japan, into which another four billions have gone.

For safeguarding smaller countries in the Middle East from—until recently—lesser threats of aggression, the carrying charges for U.S. taxpayers have not been so great.

AGAIN, THE EASY thing for the United States to do is look upon the new movement for Arab nationalism as the wave of the future and let it sweep wherever it chooses.

When the United States does that, it sacrifices the principles of not only the United Nations Charter but also of the American Declaration of Independence as well.

These principles include the right of every people to determine their own form of government, to remain independent and to be free from outside aggression.

When the United States goes to the defense of tiny Lebanon, unrealistic Taiwan—or even of Egypt when it is attacked by Britain, France and Israel—this country is siding other small countries as well. It is writing insurance for the future security of countries like the Philippines, the Sudan, Ethiopia, Israel, Iceland, Greece or Guatemala.

Weekly Business Review

By WALTER BREEDER JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — Plus signs dotted the business scene last week.

The advent of Labor Day signalled the start of the fall season—busiest of the year for many businesses.

Memories of recession faded fast. Consumers, cheered by signs of recovery, stepped up their buying in the nation's retail store. Manufacturers of a host of products ranging from bulldozers to stereophonic hi-fi sets reported a rising flow of incoming orders. The frenzied inventory knockdown of recent months seemed to have slowed to a crawl.

The picture was not entirely cloudless. Uncertainties loomed on the far horizon — the threat of a crippling auto strike, the chance that a swing toward tight money might nip recovery in the bud, the disturbing possibility of new warlike moves around Formosa.

But by and large, there was every indication that the post-Labor Day pickup would continue. Although bogged down in labor difficulties, the auto industry was betting heavily on a good year in 1959.

L. L. Colbert, president of recession-plagued Chrysler Corp., declared: "We are anticipating and planning for a year in which between 5½ and 6 million passenger cars will be sold at retail in the United States. This compares with estimated retail sales of about 4,600,000 in 1958 x x x. We appear to be on our way out of recession."

Chrysler Corp. spent 150 million dollars redesigning its Imperial, Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge and Plymouth lines for 1959 after its 1958 cars failed to score. The company lost $25,200,000 on its 1958 models in the first six months this year.

Also fighting for a comeback this week were manufacturers of TV sets, office machines, freezers, washing machines, kitchen cabinets and automatic dryers.

Businessmen still faced plenty of king-sized problems. Eastern railroads complained loudly about passenger losses — several demanded lower taxes and higher fares. A National Retail Merchants survey found department and specialty stores fighting a grim battle against rising costs. More and more, the NRMA said, stores are making customers pay for C. O. D. deliveries and pickups of returned merchandise — services that used to be provided free.

Home builders worried about a gradual swing toward higher mortgage rates. New York bankers predicted an early boost in interest rates on short-term loans to business.

One of the week's brightest bits of news came from the National Industrial Conference Board. Announcing results of a poll of 196 companies, the NICB said: businessmen don't expect any substantial rise in profits until the end of the year. But they do see definite signs of improvement now.

Briefly over the business scene: Seven banks failed during the past 12 months—one each in Georgia, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon and Texas... Dun & Bradstreet's count of business failures this week—246—set a new 1958 low... In a sharp break with tradition, Wellington Fund established a new mutual fund that will concentrate its investments in common stocks... Gamble - Skogmo Inc., big Midwest retail chain, may import and sell a German-made automobile, the 46-horsepower, four-cylinder Goliath.

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 11,800,284 shares compared with 13,577,760 shares the preceding week and 5,479,185 shares in the corresponding week a year ago.

Bond sales had a par value of $18,228,000 in the latest week, $23,318,000 in the preceding week and $12,641,500 in the corresponding 1957 week.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

You should be as careful of the furnishings in a public lounge as you are of those in a private home. Don't flick ashes on the carpet, toss papers at a wastebasket, leave magazines in an untidy pile, or let young children climb on the furniture. To be careless with things just because they don't belong to you shows lack of breeding.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.—Acts 2:31.

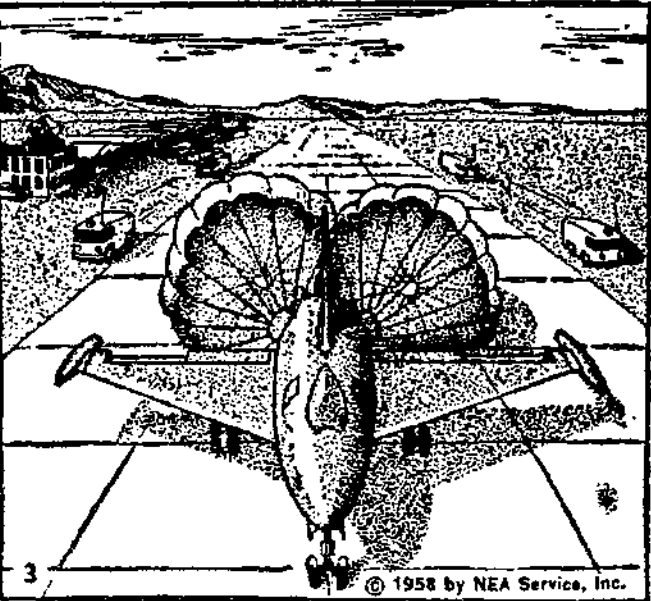

Our faith in God asks of Him a risen Redeemer, and the faith is answered in a Saviour raised from the dead.—Bishop Fallows.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (15)—Return to Earth

(1) The first manned space satellite is now ready to return to Earth, after a few hours or days in orbit, as the case may be. In order to slow down, the wing tip rockets are twisted to fire forward, counteracting the ship's orbital velocity. It is no longer a satellite, but a falling projectile. Or, if it falls too fast—a flaming meteorite.

(2) As the ship enters the atmosphere it is still moving at tremendous speed. The wing tip rockets are pointed downward to aid the ship in climbing back into space to cool off. The procedure is repeated numerous times until speed of the craft is cut enough so that it can penetrate the denser regions of the atmosphere. Then normal control surfaces take over and the craft becomes a glider; or if its rockets are used, a normal rocket plane.

(3) Landing is accomplished in a conventional manner, probably on a western dry lake bed such as those from which its predecessors (the X-2, Skyrocket, X-15) took off years before. Still traveling at high speed as it touches the runway, the plane releases parachutes from its tail to brake it. The ground crew races after the plane to greet the world's first spacemen. The pilots will then face what they may consider the most difficult phase of their assignment—the interviews with scientists, medical examinations, the detailed study of the instrument and camera records of the flight.

(4) Later, after subsequent flights, films taken by pilots in space will be viewed by earthbound citizens on their television screens. Still later, "live" television pictures from a ship in orbit may be beamed to home viewers. While the older generation marvels, their children will accept such things as a normal part of their lives. Next: The Permanent Orbiters.

Bertha the Whale Having Trouble With Pool Mate

NEW YORK (AP)—Bertha the whale did fine in flight, but now she's having poolmate trouble.

Bertha II, a year-old Alaskan Beluga whale, arrived by cargo airliner Thursday from Los Angeles and was hauled to the New York Aquarium at Coney Island.

Reclining on a rubber foam mat and wrapped in muslin, Bertha stood the air trip very well—unlike Bertha I, which died in flight en route here recently. Dr. Carleton Ray, assistant to the aquarium director, sat by Bertha II, sprinkling her at frequent intervals with some Pacific Ocean water brought aboard.

Everything was just dandy until Bertha, 6 feet 7 inches and weighing 400 pounds, dunked herself in the 40-by-60-foot aquarium pool.

Bertha was confronted by Olaf the walrus, a foot longer and weighing in at 1,200 pounds. At full growth a Beluga whale—which becomes white at maturity—may reach 18 feet in length and weigh 2,500 pounds. But right now Bertha is outgunned and out-weighted.

Olaf took a gander at Bertha and poked his small tusks into her side. Bertha submerged under a large raft.

Olaf's belligerent greeting caused aquarium officials to give Bertha a 24-hour guard. Bertha and Olaf were put together because of lack of a second large pool. Meanwhile, the aquarium folks are hoping Olaf will learn to tolerate Bertha, the first live whale exhibited here since 1897.

AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ernest Truex says he doesn't like acting, never has.

Yet when the new Ann Sothern Show goes on CBS-TV shortly, Truex will be starting his 64th season as an actor.

"I'm grateful for everything acting has brought me," Truex said, "but there's no ham in me. Acting has always been work, sometimes drudgery."

He's also one actor who never yearns to play Hamlet. "That's how I started in this business at the age of 5," he said.

Truex's father was a country doctor who once treated a penniless Shakespearean actor. The actor used his convalescence to teach 5-year-old Ernest how to recite Shakespeare.

Truex got so good with the Bard that he went on the road, billed as "The Child Hamlet."

Being tiny, he played child roles until he was married and the father of a son.

In one play he portrayed a 13-year-old boy so convincingly that a 9-year-old actress in the same play got a violent crush on him.

"She was so demonstrative about it," Truex recalled, "that it became most embarrassing. I couldn't convince her that I was married and the father of a son."

The actress later became more famous as a writer and congresswoman. Her name: Clare Boothe Luce.

Truex finally got out of child roles by growing a mustache.

"I immediately was cast — and

Date of Interest About Two Islands Off China Mainland

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The two Far Eastern islands now at the center of world tension—Formosa and its outpost Quemoy—are about the size of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

They contain a few million more people than those states. Formosa has a population exceeding 10 million, including an estimated 200,000 Chinese Nationalist soldiers. Quemoy is home for some 47,000 farmers and fishermen and the base of some 75,000 troops.

The troops are trained by U.S. military advisers, equipped with American weapons and well officered. The basis of Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek's army is the men who followed him to Formosa in 1949 when he lost mainland China to the Communists. But those men have grown older now and the average age of the army actually is lower because of replacement recruiting from residents.

The population on both Formosa and Quemoy appears always ready to celebrate Nationalist successes. There has been natural uneasiness over the Quemoy situation, but Communist surrender-or-die threats have met only defiance.

Formosa's capital city is Taipei. Other major cities are Keelung, the seaport for Taipei at the northern end of the 240-mile-long island, and Kaohsiung on the southwest coast.

Portuguese navigators in the 16th century gave the island its name of Formosa, meaning "beautiful." The Chinese name of Taiwan means "terraced bay."

Quemoy, a dumbbell-shaped island of 50 square miles, lies 120 miles west of Formosa and within 5 miles of the Communist Mainland. Its name in Chinese is Kinmen, meaning "golden gate."

Egg Candling Inspected

Nu-Way Markets, a Division of American Stores, and the Grange League Federation (G.L.F.) combined facilities yesterday in a move which will promote the sale of Farm Fresh Eggs daily in Nu-Way's 75 Western New York and Pennsylvania stores. All G.L.F. eggs sold by Nu-Way will be products of farms in Western New York. Mr. Hovey, Nu-Way's sales manager, said that under policies set by both Nu-Way and G.L.F., eggs will reach customers with the maximum of freshness because of quicker distribution to area markets. Nu-Way Markets will be the only large chain store outlets in Western New York to handle Farm Fresh area eggs exclusively.

Advice on Travel to Hill and Dale Show

LANDER—Announcement is received from Hill and Dale Garden Club's Flower Show committee that Warren residents planning attendance at the exhibit on Thursday will do well to travel by way of Jackson Run road, over Miller Hill and into the town square at Lander, because of road work underway.

The show will be staged in the Methodist parish house, just a few doors from the intersection. The hours are to be 2:00 to 9:30 p. m., and the public is invited to both show and view. There is no admission charge, and it is hoped all interested in fine flowers and gardens will be on hand.

Another special at the show will be a plants sale, arranged by the finance committee. This group is headed by Mrs. George Rapp, while Mrs. Ralph Burgett is chairman of the committee serving tea.

College Club Having Picnic and Meeting

College Club members are starting off their new season with a novel picnic dinner at 6:00 p. m. Wednesday at Wilder Field clubhouse. The event is designed as an informal get-together, with an opportunity to greet new members and review vacation highlights with old friends.

The catered dinner will be served at six; members are reminded to bring their package contributions for the auction to be held under the direction of Mrs. John W. Lutz, program chairman for the evening, with Mrs. M. H. Lewis and Mrs. William H. Wright assisting.

Assisting Mrs. J. R. Elliott as dinner committee are Mrs. Beyer Africa, Mrs. Archie Brown, Mrs. Nell B. Donovan, Mrs. J. R. Griffin, Mrs. H. H. Husted, Mrs. Henry Walker, Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp, Mrs. A. J. McDannel, Mrs. Victor Schnell, Miss Matilda Steinhoff, Mrs. Willard Weatherby and Miss Margaret E. Wright.

CLASS MEETING

RUSSELL—Win Them Class held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Enos, with Mrs. Paul Wood assisting. Mrs. Mary Wall conducted the business session, which was followed by games and contests.

Next meeting will be held at the church October 7, when members will join with the WSCS for a program. Anyone wishing to hear Bob Miley, Warren County Youth Ambassador, is invited to his talk on summer experiences in Europe.

ALLEN CLASS

Fall activities for members of Allen Class of First Methodist church began with a social meeting in Dunham parlors, when a brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Allison Knopf, president, and devotions were given by Mrs. Ethel Johnson on the theme "Ideals to Live By".

The program consisted of colored slides and commentary by Mrs. Ethel Donaldson on her trip through Italy, France, Switzerland, England and Sweden. Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table by Mrs. Mildred Ostergard, Mrs. Grace Aberg, and committee.

GRACE CHURCH EVENTS Monday—1:30, Doris Bloomster Circle was entertained by Mrs. Clarence Hildum; 7:45, Mary Harwood Circle will meet with Mrs. Harry Hutchings, Jackson Run road; 8:00, Vera E. Parks Circle will meet with Mrs. Richard Reiff, 107 Park avenue.

Tuesday—7:45, Frances Fulton Circle at the home of Mrs. Donald Lytle, 101 North Irvine street; WSCS executive board.

Wednesday—7:30, Senior Choir rehearsal; midweek service; 8:30, official board meeting.

Thursday—6:30, Truthseekers Class will have a tureen dinner in Fellowship Hall, each to bring a tureen and table service, the dessert, rolls and coffee to be provided. The program will be a recognition service for members working in the church or Sunday school.

Friday and Saturday—Retreat at Wesley Woods for all church school officers, teachers and assistants; starting at 8:00 p. m. Friday, close at 1:00 p. m. Saturday. Reservations are to be made with Evelyn Boyd or Luella Hammerbeck.

Elsie Ross members are reminded they will have no meeting this month.

IT CLASS PICNIC

IT Class members of Epworth Methodist church will have a meeting and picnic at Chapman Dam at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, weather permitting. Otherwise, the group will meet at the church. Husbands will be guests and each member is asked to bring a tureen, rolls and table service, the dessert to be provided.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Ladies' Auxiliary of World War I Veterans will hold its regular meeting at 8:00 this evening at Stoneham community house, and all are urged to be on hand.

STARBRICK MEETING

All are welcome to the meeting of Starbrick Homemakers to be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home of Doris Esterbrook.

The Mature Parent

Parents Must Help Young Come to Terms With Life

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Pete's best friend attends a Sunday school which gives him colored pictures of Jesus walking on water and looking for lambs on mountains. Envious, Pete asked if he could go to Sunday school too. His father said yes, not because he wanted religious instruction for Pete but because he understood the boy's envy.

One morning Pete came home from Sunday school unusually silent and preoccupied. Finally the trouble came out. His teacher had told him that Jesus said, "Do good to those who hate you." Worriedly Pete said, "That does Bill Sloan hates me. But you told me to kick him in the shins when he tries to shove me off my bike. That wasn't doing good to Bill Sloan, Daddy. Jesus wouldn't have liked it."

"Let me think a minute," his father said.

Then, dropping his clipping shears, he sat down on the lawn beside Pete.

"Maybe," he said, feeling his way, "Jesus meant that we do good to people who hate us by not letting them push us around. Bill Sloan's got to learn that he can't shove smaller kids off bikes whenever he feels like it. So if you don't let him shove you off yours, I think you're doing good to him."

It was the first time in the life of Pete's father that he'd given serious original thought to a religious meaning.

Sooner or later all children require this thought of us.

Joan's new kitten gets run over. As you dig the grave behind the garage, you know that your grief-stricken child is thinking, "Where has Fluffy gone? Why is she so stiff and still when just this morning she was purring on my pillow?"

Eddie reads a magazine article on the ICBM and asks you, "What's the sense of my sweating out another year at college when all hell can break loose any minute?"

Beth finds a broken chrysalis in the back field and asks you, "How did the butterfly know that it had stopped being a caterpillar and could fly?"

If religion is man's effort to come to terms with life and death, then all these questions are religious ones.

For parents of orthodox faiths, the answers come easier than for those who subscribe to none.

But from all parents the questions rate our serious attention and respect.

Marconi Bridge Club Tournament Over Weekend Is Most Successful

A most successful annual Warren Tournament was staged this weekend at Marconi Outing Club by the Marconi Bridge Club. Mrs. Helen Pendleton Rockwell, president of the local bridge club, was a most capable chairman of the event, ably assisted by members of the club. Players in the tournament were most happy to welcome Ed Cheromet as director of the events.

Winners of the Alice J. Russell Trophy in the Mixed Pair competition, held Friday evening, were Mrs. Jo Hendrickson, Jamestown, N. Y., and Harry Johnson, Harrisburg. In runner-up position, were Miss Tekla Laffey, Erie, paired with Morgan Beverly, Corry. Mr. and Mrs. James R. Valone, Warren, were in third place; Mrs. George Sarvis and M. A. Kornreich, Warren, in fourth.

In the Open Pair event, played in two sessions on Saturday, the Helen Pendleton Rockwell Trophy was awarded to D. A. Scalise and M. A. Kornreich, Warren. Mrs. Gertrude Mason and Gayle Patton, Erie, were in second place, with Henry Hunzinger and D. L. Vetter, Warren, in third.

Defending champions Dr. R. H. Israel, John Israel, Henry Hunzinger and D. L. Vetter, all of Warren, again won the Emblem Oil Trophy in the Team of Four competition Sunday. Tied for second place in this event were Mrs. Shuri Glass and Harry Kopf, Warren, playing with Fred Oht and T. J. McKenna of Buffalo, and D. A. Scalise, A. J. "Moon" Scalise and James R. Valone, all of Warren.

In the Consolation Game played Saturday evening, winners were: North-South—first, Louis Wallace, Jamestown, and E. J. Rupp, Lakewood; second, Al Lindberg, Milwaukee, Wis., and Scott Mowry, Clarion. East-West winners were Mrs. M. A. Kornreich and Mrs. Joseph Bevelino, with Mrs. C. J. DeLaney and Mrs. Luella Tobin, Erie, in second place.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY MONG

Martha Marie Schruise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Schruise of Panama, N. Y., became the bride of Harry Mong, son of Mrs. Grace Mong and the late Harold Mong of 5 Locust street, Warren, in a ceremony performed at 2:00 p. m. August 30 in the Panama Methodist church.

The Rev. Edwin Armitage officiated before an altar decorated with lighted candelabra and two baskets of gladioli. Mrs. Albert Copeland, Mayville, provided organ music and the vocalist was Roland Graves, Andover, O., both cousins of the bride.

Escorted by her father, the bride appeared in floor length white chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with basque bodice, illusion neckline edged with re-embroidered lace touched with sequins and seed pearls, sleeves long and pointed over the hands. The same lace formed an apron-effect on the full satin skirt, and the overskirt of nylon tulle was caught up with flowers matching those at the neckline. Similar embroidery accented her crown of matching lace, to which was attached a fingertip veil. Both gown and veil were designed and executed by Mrs. Howard Matthews, of Clymer. Completing her outfit, her flowers were pink roses and white pom-poms.

Mrs. Robert Schruise, Watts Flats, was matron of honor for her sister-in-law; Faith Mong, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid; and Sandra Schruise was junior bridesmaid for her sister. All wore red-accents on white tulle picture hats, and each had a corsage of pink carnations and white pom-poms. Carrying a basket of mixed flowers and wearing pink nylon over taffeta, the flower girl was Wanda Morrison.

Best man was Darrell Johnson, Warren; ushers, Robert Schruise of Watts Flats brother of the bride, and Bruce Hook, Clarendon.

The bride's mother selected teal blue crepe, beige hat and gloves, and pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Mong chose dusty rose lace over taffeta, matching accessories and white carnations. Remembered with corsages were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Albert Schruise, also Margaret Maus, both of Sherman. The elder Mr. Schruise received a boutonniere.

A reception for 200 guests followed in the church dining hall, the bride's table centered with the top of the wedding cake and attendants' bouquets.

MRS. FREDERICK S. HEYMAN

At 4:00 p. m. September 6, in First Presbyterian and Trinity church of South Orange, N. J., Dr. George A. Edmison united in marriage Habi Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stuart Thompson of 22 Benvenue avenue, West Orange, and Frederick Schearer Heymann, son of Mrs. Helen Heymann of Warren, and Frederick O. Heymann of Allentown.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore off-white French pure silk, the bell skirt having a chapel train, the bodice and skirt having appliques of candlelight-colored chintilly lace with dainty pearl accents. A band of French orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of silk illusion and her bouquet was fashioned of white orchids. As maid of honor, Suzanne E. Palmer of West Orange wore royal blue taffeta, styled with fitted bodice and full skirt. Identically attired, bridesmaids were Marilyn Hammer, Hillsdale, N. J.; Sally Ann Hied, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Margot J. Hardiman, East Orange.

Completing the bridal party, groomsmen were all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom: Norman Parker, Pittsburgh, as best man; Martin Kneese, Edgewater, N. J., Albert Lelekas, Sharon, and Harry Guarniere, of Mercer, ushering.

Following a honeymoon to Bermuda, the couple will live in Erie, where Mr. Heymann is employed by Loblaw, Inc. He is a graduate of Warren High School and of Grove City College, where he was a member of Epsilon Pi Fraternity. His bride, alumna of West Orange High School and Grove City College, is a member of Alpha Beta Tau Sorority.

Newlyweds Are Honored At Fete

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lucia, 15 Walnut street, entertained 50 friends and relatives at their home, the event in honor of their son, James, of Kirk Road, Warners, N. Y., and his bride, the former Barbara J. Trach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Trach, of Syracuse, N. Y.

Accordian music for dancing was provided by Thomas Fazio, uncle of the bridegroom, in addition to recorded music. Guests were served a buffet lunch from a table centered with a miniature wedding cake, made and decorated by Elizabeth Ann Lucia, sister of the bridegroom. The couple received many lovely gifts for their new home.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fasciano, Charles and Angela Fasciano, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brunato, Linda Brunato, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. William Crocoll, Dunkirk, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lucia, Rose Ann, Catherine and David Lucia, Youngsville; Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Lucia, Rose Betty Lucia, Irvine; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Works, Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lucia, Billy Lucia, Ludlow.

Suits and Coats in Taper Caper

The shape of fall fashion is apparent in these slim new suits and the tapered coat shown here. Another fashion point: the use of fur trim, a luxurious and lavish touch that belongs in every wardrobe in some form. Dress-and-jacket (left) in pale beige are subtly cut to swing away from the body. Unwaisted dress has high molded satin bodice, round collarless neck and short sleeves. High-waisted suit (center) in chintzey-and-gray English tweed has lifted belt and deep, notched collar of nutria. The slim and high-waisted coat (right) has light seaming from under the arms to give it the right curve. Coat is in white-and-black loopy plaid with deep cuff-collar of black beaver. All designs shown are from Arthur Jablov's collection.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The color that lights up fall suits and coats is the kind of brilliance usually reserved for spring. This fall, brilliant reds, splashes of violet, sharp black-and-white, burning blue, beryl green, and even a bright and eye-opening pink replace the more autumnal shades. It's a brand new way to look.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor
one that can be carried out in accessories since the plain black shoe is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. These days, a girl can match leathers to any costume she likes and look chic. There's a whole story in suits and coats with fur trim, elegantly shaped, trim and sleek. The furs spell out luxury in terms of chinchilla, mink, sable, ermine and black beaver. The cut of a fur collar is distinctive: wide and standaway, flat and notched or deep and fluffy. Suits, like coats, may be belted high or low. They may have a jacket cut to rest on the hipbone, paralleling the coat that tapers to a narrow hemline. The stroller suit is lean and narrow with a 31-inch jacket usually lined with print matched to its own blouse. This long jacket (or short coat) usually is marked by large pockets set fairly low. Fabrics are a marvel of weaving, long and silky, fuzzy and soft, light and luminous. They are pretty to look at, lovely to touch and fun to wear. And when they're done in purple or beige or gold, they're real scene-stealers.

Stockton Man Killed By High Power Line

MAYVILLE—A Stockton man was electrocuted by a falling power line Saturday evening as wind-swept rain storms pummeled Chautauqua County, disrupting power and felling trees.

Roy Adams, 31, of Railroad street, Stockton, was electrocuted about 8:15 p. m. Saturday when a 4,800 volt power line fell upon him outside his house. The Chautauqua County Sheriff's Dept. reported that when Adams went outside his home to see why the lights had gone out, the high voltage wire fell on him. A tree had fallen on the power line causing it to break.

A brother-in-law, Harry Lemer, 30, at the house at the time, tried unsuccessfully to remove the wire from the victim with a broom. Coroner Theodore Morse of Brocton issued a certificate of accidental death due to electrocution. The Cassadaga Volunteer Fire Dept. arrived with its emergency unit and the Stockton unit was summoned to handle any possible fire hazard.

OBITUARIES

FUNERAL INFORMATION WILL BE FOUND UNDER ANOTHER HEADING

MRS. E. C. CHRISTENSEN
Mrs. Helen Malm Christensen, wife of Earl C. Christensen of 111 Redwood street, died at 5:38 a. m. Saturday in Warren General Hospital, aged 59 years. She had been in failing health for some time and had been hospitalized the past six weeks.

She was born in Colegrove, Pa., August 24, 1899, but had spent most of her lifetime in this community. She was a member of First Methodist church, taught in Allen Class for nearly 25 years, and was a member of its W.C.S. She was also a member of the W.C.T.U.

The following tribute to Mrs. Christensen, received by the Times-Mirror, acknowledges, in a small way, the great loss experienced by those who knew her:

"The church and her large circle of friends have lost a faithful, true friend. Her quiet, unassuming, consecrated life has influenced hundreds of women through her untiring work in the Woman's Society of Christian Service, of which she was a charter member and in which she served faithfully for many years. She was also a faithful worker in the World Council of Church Women. Time will never reveal the value of her teachings to the Allen Class, where, for 25 years, she selflessly gave of her time, talents and efforts."

"She was loved for her hospitality and graciousness by members of Blue Stocking Club, where she served as secretary and, in her own inimitable way, gave many informative talks and papers. All who knew Helen recognized a humbleness, a kindness, and an unusual interest in humanity. She loved people. Their interests were her interests. As the writer of Proverbs inscribed: 'Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates'."

Besides her husband, survivors include a son, Richard E. Christensen, Olean, N. Y.; also four sisters, Mrs. Alan Templeton, Mrs. Harry Armstrong and Mrs. R. L. Blodgett, Warren, and Mrs. W. H. Ransom, Waverly, N. Y.

Dr. A. C. Schultz, pastor, will be assisted by Dr. H. H. Barr, retired, for funeral services at First Methodist church at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday. Interment will follow in Oakland cemetery.

CLARENCE BERGQUIST
Jamestown Sun: Clarence H. Bergquist of 116 Newton avenue, dean of Jamestown area furniture manufacturers, died at 6:20 p. m. Friday at Jamestown General Hospital.

Mr. Bergquist was president of Monitor Furniture Corp. and had been in the furniture business over 540 years. He worked his way up from salesman to president of Monitor, buying control of the firm in 1943 in association with a brother-in-law, Burton Tuxford.

During his career, Mr. Bergquist also represented such well-known firms as Jamestown L. O. L. G., Shearman Brothers, Van Stee Corp., Warren Furniture Co., Youngsville Manufacturing Co., Hallagan Manufacturing Co., Level and Atlas Furniture Cos., while traveling the six New England states as a furniture salesman.

He was employed in the office at Sherman Brothers after being graduated from business college. He later was an office employe at Jamestown Lounge before he started covering the New England territory.

He was born in Jamestown, the son of Charles A. and Anna L. Swedberg Bergquist.

MRS. DAVID STONE
SHEFFIELD—Mrs. Eva Jane Porter Stone, 78 year old resident of 200 Pickering street and wife of David Stone, died at Warren General Hospital at 6:15 a. m. today following an illness of 15 years. She was born in Scotch Hill, Clarion county, August 28, 1880, and came here from Brookville in 1928.

Besides her husband, she leaves the following children: Mrs. Mary Thompson, Mrs. Florence Clark, Mrs. Jabe Henry, Mrs. Alice Swanson, Eric;

Mrs. Edith Phillips, Mrs. Harriet Stenander, Hazel and Dorothy Henry, Warren; Mrs. Carrie L. Harrison, Waterford; Mrs. Marie Brown, Youngsville; Grace Henry, Miami, Fla.; 39 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren; and the following brothers and sisters: Wade Henry, Youngsville; Ira Henry, Sheffield; Mrs. Nellie Smith, Buffalo; Milton Porter, Scotch Hill; Strickland Porter, Newmansville; Mrs. Carrie Knapp, Warren; Mrs. Margaret Schott, San Francisco, Calif.

The Rev. Jack Parsons, Methodist minister, will conduct funeral services here at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, with interment following in Sheffield cemetery.

ROY RIX
Relatives here have received word that Roy Rix, former resident of Ventuoretown, died August 30 at Claremont, S. D., with services and interment at that place September 2.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Gullickson, and two granddaughters, in Claremont. His wife, the former Delia Jermain, of Warren, preceded him in death about six years ago.

MAE HALEY WILSON
Word has been received here that Mrs. Mae Haley Wilson, 77 year old resident of Frewsburg and native of Warren county, died Friday after a long illness. Mrs. Wilson was born in Grand Valley February 25, 1880, the daughter of Henry and Jane Cutler White, but had lived in the Town of Carroll since 1918.

Besides two daughters and a son, survivors include three brothers and two sisters, among whom are Merle White, Grand Valley, and Mrs. Forest Adams, Columbus.

JACOB B. HESCH
Many friends throughout the community were shocked and grieved over the weekend to learn of the sudden death of Jacob Bartholomew Hesch at his home, 215 Central avenue, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

Mr. Hesch was born in Warren November 13, 1910, the son of the late George J. and Melvina Hesch, and had spent his entire lifetime in this community. He was employed in the plating department of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., and was a member of Holy Redeemer church.

Surviving are his wife, Jessie Ansell Hesch, and four children: Raymond, Jane, Marguerite and Robert Hesch, all at home; three brothers and one sister, George F. Hesch, Warren; Hiram Hesch, Youngstown, O.; Robert Hesch, at Travis Air Force Base in California; Marguerite Chapman, Sandusky, O.

Funeral services at Holy Redeemer church at 9:00 a. m. Tuesday will be followed by interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Oddities in the News

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP)—Chifford Rietz says the best place for a boat is in the water. He parked his trailer-mounted boat in front of his house. A passer-by tossed a lighted cigar butt on a covering. Rietz put out the fire in time. But during the night a motorist crashed into the boat and smashed it.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A new kind of plainclothesman paid off for Santa Monica police. Officers staked out in swim trunks arrested 20 persons in a weekend campaign against parking meter cheaters at the beach.

STAFFORD, Kan. (AP)—A sting by a yellowjacket proved fatal to Mrs. Ray Depew, 38. She became unconscious immediately after being stung on the right arm. She died in the hospital without regaining consciousness.

With the Candidates

DEMOCRATIC
HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader says that President Eisenhower's veto of a 275 million dollar Area Redevelopment Bill "is a grave and crippling setback for Pennsylvania."

The governor said Sunday that the president's weekend veto of the Douglas-Payne Bill prevents Pennsylvania from getting an estimated 45 million dollars in long term loans to industry and grants to municipalities for such local services as roads, sewage and water facilities.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders in Pennsylvania urged the president to sign the bill as a means of offsetting the state's lingering recession.

FIRST FEDERAL AID RECEIVED
W. Floyd Clinger, Warren Sanitary Authority secretary, announced this morning that he had received a $136,000 check from the federal government. The amount is the first portion of a $250,000 grant in federal assistance for Warren's new sewage treatment system. Second portion of the grant will be received after a final inspection and okay of the completed system early next summer.

MARRIAGE LICENSE
Making happy application for a wedding license this morning in the office of Register and Recorder Gurney Ball were Frank Toscano of Huntville, Ala. and Teresa Marie Fino of Warren.

PRECAUTIONARY RUN
Borough firemen made a precautionary run about 9:58 p. m. Sunday when a leaking ice box was reported at the home of Leo Gogolatz, 231 Oneida avenue. Firemen moved it outside. Saturday firemen made a call with the pneulator to Central avenue and Friday righted a tipped flare.

HOOP FEVER CONTINUES
Warren Country children still have a hoop fever plague running strong. Both Kresges' and Toy Center were depleted of supplies Friday bringing to about 1,500 the number sold when stores closed that day. Kresge's came up with more the next day and reported sales brisk. Ken Peterson of Toy Center took orders all day Saturday for a load he was bringing back from Franklin early that evening. He said it was a mob scene again when he arrived at 7:30 with about 150 hoops selling in a half hour. Both stores still have a supply.

HOSPITAL EMERGENCIES
Treated at Warren General Hospital emergency room this weekend for a variety of hurts were: Rock Sander of 15 Eddy St., forehead cut; Richard Sweigart of 215 Oneida Ave., left wrist cut; Herman Shirley, Jr., of RD 3, Sugar Grove, right hand palm splinter removal; Virgil Green of 104 1/2 Walnut St., right hand puncture wound; Randy Dickey of 7 Myrtle St., cut right elbow; James Whitmire, RD 1, Warren, right leg cut; James Buck, 10 1/2 Franklin St., left thumb cut; Wendy Johnson of 5 North State St., North Warren, shin abrasion; JoAnn Ferritt of 214 Park St., left little finger cut; Edson Skinner of Russell, left ankle injury.

BAD FALL FROM BIKE
David Hummerich of 12 Park street, North Warren, suffered painful injuries about noon Saturday when his bicycle skidded and crashed as he was coming down Follett Run Road. The boy, who spent a "good" night at Warren General Hospital where he was taken by ambulance, suffered cuts on his upper lip, back of left ear, on left arm and right elbow, plus multiple abrasions of face, arms and left shoulder. The 14-year-old boy, said David was going down the hill too fast when he lost control and was thrown over the handlebars. About 40 stitches were taken inside young man's mouth and around his eyes.

9 NAME MYSTERY GIRL
Nine Warren Countians were successful in naming the "Mystery Girl" who reclined in Montgomery Ward's window Friday as part of a promotion scheme for new mattresses. Miss Mystery turned out to be Bonnie Palmer of 406 Radaker street, Sheffield. Those guessing correctly were Phyllis Laufenberger of RD 1, Warren, Richard Foster of 229 Pennsylvania avenue west, Sarah Grutaria, Box 26, Youngsville; David Trager of 7 West St. Clair street; Jeanne Jordan of 404 Pennsylvania avenue, east; Carole Johnson of 12 Canton street; Judy Johnson of 8 Cedar street; Jerry Currie of 500 Market street; Sylvia Blech of Warren. They will each receive a $1 gift certificate. One hundred thirty-six guessed wrong.

Only One Dry Sept. Day Recorded to Date

There has only been one September day so far without rain. Weather observer Jim Reier reported this morning that .16 inches of intermittent precipitation fell Saturday and .41 inches fell during the forenoon.

Thursday of last week a torrential 1.36 inches was recorded in a 24-hour period.

Almanacs predicted the month would be exceptionally wet and cold. Forecast for today: continuing cold. Forecast for Tuesday: warmer, possible showers.

Hard Working Dems Show a Slight Edge

A hard-working county Democratic organization continued to show a slight edge in special pre-election field registrations now underway in Warren County.

Democrats outregistered Republicans 19 to 8 at Sheffield Friday and 25 to 15 in Columbus Saturday. At the special registration center in Warren National Bank Friday, Republicans gathered a 15 to 10 majority.

Special registration continues today in Tidouite. Hours from 1 to 8 p. m. will also be observed in Russell and Grand Valley on Tuesday, and in Youngsville Wednesday.

Thursday and Friday evenings the registration office in Warren County Court House will remain open until 9 p. m. Office will close at noon Saturday but will stay open until 9 p. m. once again Monday, the final day.

The special registration booth in Warren National Bank lobby will once again remain open from 1 to 3 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m. this Friday.

ber election in Maine. This is the last one. From now on, Maine will vote in November when the rest of the states do.

At stake today along with the Senate seat are three in the U.S. House—two now held by Republicans and one by a Democrat—and the governorship Muskie is relinquishing.

The big interest is in the Senate contest and an issue that has had some aspects of an iceberg, with most of it submerged beneath the surface.

Payne has acknowledged that he, as did presidential assistant Sherman Adams, received favors from Bernard Goldfine, the wealthy Boston industrialist who came under scrutiny of a House subcommittee and subsequently was cited for contempt of Congress.

Muskie has kept silent on all this, on the assumption that voters can size up the facts for themselves.

Reinhard rowed ashore and hurried to the splintered and still smoldering shack. He huddled the three children into his station wagon—without realizing that two were dead—and drove to a nearby hospital.

Lawrence, 7, and Trudy Lee, 13, were pronounced dead on arrival.

Their sister Diana, 14, was badly burned about the neck and reported partially paralyzed. Her condition was listed as critical.

Reinhard, manager of a Los Angeles automotive works, had been vacationing with his family at the lake for two weeks.

DETOUR DISCUSSION
Highway superintendent Chester Walker said this morning that he would meet Tuesday with those persons most interested in effecting a settlement of the detour problem now confronting Cobham Park Road residents living above the second bridge. He stated a friendly settlement would try to be reached soon for the convenience of garbage trucks, school buses and residents alike.

REPUBLICANS CONVENE
Charlotte Sires, a member of the directing board of Pennsylvania State Board of Republican Women, was in Pittsburgh Friday for a special meeting of the group. Also in town that day and Saturday for adopting a "declaration of principals" and hearing all state-wide candidates speak were Assemblyman A. M. Gibson, county Republican chairman, and Sunny Lucia, vice chairman. W. Scott Calderwood, state committeeman, joined the group of about 200 prominent Republicans Saturday. Sunday, Assemblyman Gibson left for Boston where he will attend a 3-day session on inter-state government as Pennsylvania's special representative appointed by the legislature.

ROCKET NOSE FOUND
CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Supply Minister Athol Townley announced that the nose of Britain's Black Knight rocket was recovered today at almost exactly the spot for which its landing had been predicted.

The rocket, with which Britain hopes to put an earth satellite in orbit, was successfully fired Sunday night in south central Australia.

Townley gave neither the specific altitude the rocket reached nor how far it traveled.

leaguered island, although Beakley disclosed that his ships had been shepherding supply ships to Quemoy at night since last Wednesday.

The American action challenged Peiping's recent proclamation extending Red China's territorial waters 12 miles out from the shore and beyond Quemoy. The United States rejected the extension, saying it would continue to observe the three-mile limit. The escorting ships remained some seven miles off the Communist mainland.

Peiping radio charged the American ships with violating Chinese waters and broadcast a "serious warning" from the Foreign Ministry. The warning was repeated again today.

The furious air battle took place Sunday over the Formosa Strait, 23 miles east of the Tanghai base at which the Communists recently based 50 MIG17s.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, U. S. Air Force vice chief of staff who arrived on Formosa, personally congratulated the Nationalist fighter pilots when they returned to Taoyuan air base south of Taipei.

The United States continued to strengthen its forces in the area.

In southern Formosa, U.S. and Nationalist Chinese Marines launched a mock invasion today in combined amphibious maneuvers involving 8,000 to 10,000 men. Peiping radio said they were preparing to attack the mainland.

"Back the Dragons" Campaign Mapped By Fans

Old-Fashioned Pep Program With Bonfire Planned for Beaty Field Friday Night

By LARRY

Interest in Warren High School grid squad's future was given a stimulating "shot in the arm" in a meeting Friday by a group of football enthusiasts who chartered plans for possibly the biggest season in the history of the Blue & White so far as a successful season of fan participation and team support is concerned. This week has been designated "Back the Dragons" at the five home games.

The next five days, starting today, will be dominated by "Back the Dragons" activities, climax planned for Friday evening on Beaty field at 8:45.

At Friday's meeting, it was decided that the football used in each home game would be autographed by Warren players and awarded to a lucky fan in a ticket-drawing affair.

Times-Mirror Sports Department, along with other publicity outlets, have completed an outline for a full week of promotion with special features on the sports pages. Merchants in Warren joined the band wagon with the announcement that they will decorate a window with trophies and pictures.

Friday's climax includes an old-fashioned bon fire on Beaty field, supported by Warren High cheerleaders, band and football team. A snake dance may be in the offing, also.

Varsity cheerleaders will be stationed in Warren's business district Friday evening with season tickets for convenience of shoppers and fans.

The five home games include the 1958 opener with Corry this coming Saturday; Franklin, Sept. 20; Meadville, Oct. 11; Ridgway, Oct. 17; Jamestown, Nov. 8. Starting time for all home games is 1:30 p. m.

Grade school pupils are offered extra-special rates on their season tickets. Fans are urged to watch Times-Mirror for continuous information on "Back the Dragons".

Consideration was also given the possibility of a bowl game each year in the Dragon's home schedule. Plans have not been completed yet for this mammoth yearly affair.

Introducing 1958 Dragons

DICK TERRY

BOB HASLET

Experience is the key word for Dragon mentor Ralph Veights as he begins his grid season Saturday against Corry Beavers. Dick Terry, 16, senior, left, and 17-year-old Bob Haslet, right, both return to the gridiron for their fourth season. Terry has received one letter in football and one in track. He believes Veights will insert him in the offensive starting lineup, right halfback, jersey No. 18. The 5 ft. 5 in. 146 pound griddler, played both offensive and defensive last season. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Terry, 118 Sixth avenue, he hopes to enter college after graduation, becoming a physical education instructor. A member of Warren High Spanish club and Lettermen's Association. Dick noted, "We'll do all right. We had a lot of experience and good coaches, too—they have taught us lots of things."

Haslet will anchor left halfback position. Last year, Bob was safety man on defense and also left halfback on offense. Also a track squad member, Haslet has received three track letters, one in football. "We should do all right this year," the 5 ft. 6 in. 160 pound back commented, "with the experience of 11 returning lettermen. They will be filling most of the slots." Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haslet, 4 Jefferson, Bob has plans to enter Paul Smith Forestry school at Paul Smith, New York. Jersey No. 38 will be worn by Haslet in this season's competition.

Dupas To Meet Lanky Gorman in Tonight's Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ralph Dupas starts on the long road back tonight at the age of 22. The clever New Orleans speedster meets Lanky Johnny Gorman, 22, of New York, at New Orleans.

This marks Dupas' first outing since he was battered and stopped by lightweight champion Joey Brown in the eighth round of a title scrap at Houston, May 7. He is now fighting as a welterweight. The fight won't be telecast.

The fight of the week matches two stiff-punching middleweight contenders — Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, and Spider Webb of Chicago — at Salt Lake City Thursday night. This outdoor bout at Derks Field won't be telecast, either.

Both Fullmer, a former middleweight champion, and the classy Webb, hope to get a crack at the title next year. That is when champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio get through settling their feud.

Fullmer has won five straight since he lost back the 160-pound crown to Robinson last year. His record is 49-4. Webb has won his last three fights for a 29-3 record.

School Teams of State on Final Week of Training

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's high school grid teams began their final week of pre-season training today. This weekend they begin picking up the marbles.

A number of games are scheduled for Friday and Saturday but, with few exceptions, they'll be the traditional warmups for the important conference games starting later.

This is the way the 1958 campaign looks to sportswriters around the Commonwealth:

The WPIAL Double-A race will be the usual wide-open brawl with the exception that defending champion Williamsburg is not rated a contender this year. The race shapes up as a battle among Mt. Lebanon, Johnstown, Uniontown, Baldwin, Charlevoix, and Clairton with Har-Brack much improved. Jeannette on the way back after an off-season, and Sharon and Farrell dark horse contenders.

Braddock, unbeaten in 36 games, is the team the contenders will have to beat out for Class A honors, but Braddock may have lost too many veterans to repeat. In that case, the champion should emerge from among Scott Township, Carnegie, Leechburg, Glassport, Canonsburg and Beaver.

In Pittsburgh, Westinghouse is favored to win for the fifth straight year. It hasn't lost a league game since 1953.

St. Mary's has a 21-game winning streak going in the Allegheny Mountain and Bucktail conferences in the northwest. Bradford looks strongest among the independents.

In Section II of District 10, Corry is back with a strong team this year and defending co-champion Meadville also looks tough. Titusville, co-champion last year, appears to be out of it. Cathedral Prep looks strong again among Erie City schools.

Denver's Hopes For Major League Team Are Soaring

First of a Series

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DENVER (AP) — Denver's hopes for major league baseball are as high as the planes that pass over carrying big league teams to and from the Pacific Coast.

But there's more than air under Denver's dreams.

It's often billed as the hottest minor league town in the country. Officials of Denver's American Association team point proudly to an average of 375,632 fans each season since 1949 for minor league ball.

Plans have been drawn showing it is feasible to increase the club's present 19,000-seat concrete stadium to a 72,000-seater. Nearby wide open spaces offer plenty of room for expansion for the playing field and for enlarging automobile parking.

By Eastern standards, the area surrounding Denver is sparsely settled. Colorado has about 1½ million residents, with about half in the Denver metropolitan area. Adjacent Wyoming has fewer than 500,000.

But Denver and Colorado Springs, 60 miles apart, are more sports minded than most towns their size. Dog racing is a competitive night attraction. College ice hockey drew 90,000 fans last winter. College football attractions include the Air Force Academy and Colorado University.

Two of Colorado's top political figures, Gov. Steve McNichols and Denver Mayor Will Nicholson, are red-hot sports fans. They have been supporting all sports ventures and Nicholson especially is plugging for major league baseball.

One of Denver's best friends in the big league circles is Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees. Webb has expressed his faith in a growing Denver by investing heavily in real estate and a hotel venture. He's also been instrumental in Denver's working agreement with the New York Yankees.

Next: Toronto's chances.

LAST DAY FOR THE FLAG

Today is the final date upon which boys may sign up for the flag football league. Anyone wishing further information about the sport may contact Tony Tomasoni at 3948. Tony also asks that if any family has football helmets or shoulder pads that have been outgrown, the league would appreciate the donation. They will be picked up if Tony is contacted. An important meeting for all interested in the sport is set for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in YMCA. There is as yet no team representing upper Conewango Avenue section.

Another Big Day For Golfers at Kinzua Sept. 14

Sixty-eight golfers who braved the rains at Kinzua Valley two weeks ago are being joined by many additional entries for Warren County Golf Tournament September 14 at Kinzua.

Several who were tied to other duties have entered and it is certain a fair day will bring well over a hundred. Smallest number will be, of course, the first flight.

Date is set and the tourney will be played, regardless of the weather.

Committee members, Jim McCool, George Larson, Sam Brobst, George Eberhardt and Keith Culbertson have stated an additional small charge is to be added to the prize for those who played two weeks ago, only for luncheon. For entries who failed to show, the $5 fee will suffice.

The postponement has once again seen rapid improvements being made to the course. Les Sheldon, owner, has been given the opportunity to repair several bad spots in the greens.

In the meantime, club championship is well under way with several matches being played over the weekend, plus a date for annual Industrial League Golf matches, to be played Sunday, September 21.

A Tribute to St. Vincent High Swimming Coach

(By LARRY)

St. Vincent High School in Erie was shocked over the death of the greatest high school coaches Erie had ever known Thursday.

"Mr. Wizard of the Waterways", Art Weibel, 62, died in St. Mary's hospital in Rochester, Minn., following a short illness.

Students under the swimming coach and friends expressed the common belief that Art was a brother to them all, one that will not be replaced.

Art was instrumental in compiling one of the most phenomenal winning strings ever recorded by a coach in the annals of scholastic sports, in Erie or throughout the country.

His Vincent Colonels swimming teams have gone through 99 consecutive meets without a defeat, a mark which stretches from way back in 1946 through the past season, a period which covers more than a decade.

They last lost in February of 1946. The only blot on their amazing record is a tie which occurred in February of 1953.

All told, Colonels have won six different state championships under Art and are presently on strings of 12 straight City Crowns and nine consecutive District 10 togas.

Althea Takes Her Place With All-Time Net Greats

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Althea Gibson may or may not return to tennis, but one thing was certain today—she had taken her place among the all-time women's greats of the game.

That's just what she wanted. Since the tall New York Negro ascended the throne as queen of all she surveyed, there have been whisperings that she left something to be desired.

Among the accusations was that she wilted when the going got tough. It couldn't have been any tougher Sunday when she came back to win the national championship for the second straight year by defeating Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 3-6, 6-1, 6-2. She couldn't do a thing right in the first set. But she wound up crushing the plump blond Pomona College freshman.

Ramos Extends Scoreless Innings Against the Yanks

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The veep should have spoken up a bit sooner.

It wasn't until August 19 that Vice President Nixon, taking in a ball game at Washington, told Pete Ramos "I expect you to win 17 games."

"But I've only won 11 and I've never won more than 12," said the Senators' slim right-hander. "And there's not much of the season left."

"I know you can do it," answered the veep.

Ramos said he'd try.
Try? Well, the kid from Cuba has won three of five since and has pitched successive six-hit shutouts against the New York Yankees, en route to their 24th American League pennant.

Ramos extended his scoreless string against the champs to 22 1-3 innings Sunday, giving Washington its first 1-0 victory in five years, before the Yankees made one of their infrequent of late shows of strength by winning the nightcap 7-0 on Duke Maas' four-hitter.

The split gave the Yankees a final 12-10 standing against the last place Nats.

Cleveland dumped second place Chicago 4-3. Boston beat Baltimore 6-5 in 10 innings and Kansas City rapped Detroit 3-2.

A two-run pinch double by Bobby Avila won for the Indians against Dick Donovan (12-13) in the eighth. Ray Boone hit a two-run homer for the White Sox, who were blanked over the last seven innings by Don Ferrarese, winner Ray Narleski (12-10) and Morrie Martin.

Speaking of Sports

Dave Fitzgerald and Jim Griffin started football practice at Oberlin College Friday. Fitzgerald is a junior, Griffin a sophomore. A graduate of Warren High, class of '56, Dave participated in football for three seasons, basketball for three, also. He was sophomore class copresident. Griffin, '57 WHS grad, was on the Dragon grid squad two years, track one.

Bud Rowland, Northern Area sports star and a '58 graduate, will soon be entering Buffalo University. Bud is currently playing baseball for Boston Red Sox.

Another Sox area bonus baby planning to enter college this fall is Bill Moniak, Youngsville. Bill just returned from Lexington, Nebraska, and will attend Jamestown Business College until spring training season.

Playboy magazine also carries a Pigskin Review in its current issue. Two football controversies which, because of their very nature, seldom get into print, are given an airing in the annual Pigskin Review in the September issue. The article says that so many college football people are getting hot under the shoulder pads about these matters, that sooner or later they are going to have to be brought out into the open and something done about them.

The article notes that the most likely solution to these problems is a letter-of-intent arrangement on a nation-wide basis. In the department of prediction, Playboy figures Oklahoma as this year's likeliest candidate for the national championship, with Miami of Florida and Auburn as dark horses.

Says Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh of his second baseman Bill Mazeroski: "Bill is the quickest man on the double play I've seen in the 20 years I've been in baseball. There is no doubt in my mind that he Pitching — Pete Ramos, Senators, beat the Yankees second straight time with a six-hitter, this one 1-0 with six strikeouts and two walks in first game of doubleheader. Yankees won nightcap 7-0 on Duke Maas' four-hitter.

Hitting — Ed Bailey, Redlegs, won opener with pinch-hit, three-run homer with two out in the ninth, then tripled and singled for a run in nightcap in 6-4, 9-2 sweep against the Phillies.

Eight-Run Rally In Third Spells Loss for Kinzua

BUSTI—An eight-run uprising in the third inning plus Curt Spontaneo's "quenching" relief job Sunday enabled Busti to defeat Kinzua, 11-9, and deadlock the Chautauqua Baseball Assn. playoffs.

The two clubs will meet Sunday in Kinzua to decide the playoff crown.

Spontaneo came to Bill Green's rescue in the ninth inning after Kinzua had loaded the sacks with no one out. He forced Crouse to hit into a double play and then retired Carl Peterson on an infield grounder to end the game.

Ted May's triple and doubles by Peterson, Greene and Wayne Abbott highlighted the eight-run burst.

JAMESTOWN REVIVES SEMI-PRO FOOTBALL

DUNKIRK—Fredonia's Orioles spoiled Jamestown's return to semi-pro football here Sunday afternoon when they handed the Jamestowners a 14-0 setback before approximately 500 fans.

Coach Jim Conti's Jamestown club will make its home debut in Municipal Stadium Saturday night against the powerful Buffalo Bills.

Don Workoff broke the scoring ice in the second period when he sped 40 yards off tackle for a touchdown. The attempt for the extra point failed.

Late in the game a penalty set the Jamestowners back on their two-yard line. On the next play Jamestown fumbled and Fredonia recovered. Two plays later the Orioles scored, and passed for the two extra points under the new rule.

Northern Area Little League Is Ended With Picnic

SUGAR GROVE — Men who have been acting as managers of Northern Area Little League in the season just past, are most appreciative of the support and assistance given by the boys, their parents, and various individuals and groups.

Season was concluded with a corn and wiener roast at the newly-acquired Sugar Grove Community Playground, at the rear of the school building.

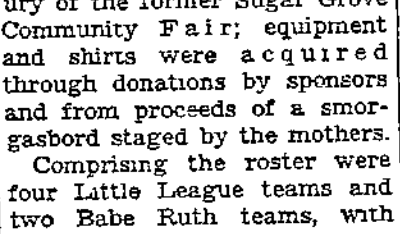

The ground was purchased from Mrs. J. A. McIntosh with funds remaining in the treasury of the former Sugar Grove Community Fair; equipment and shirts were acquired through donations by sponsors and from proceeds of a smorgasbord staged by the mothers.

Comprising the roster were four Little League teams and two Babe Ruth teams, with Merle Trumbull as manager and Howard Onihk the assistant for Skyline; Carl Allenson the manager and Vincent Carlson, assistant, for Sugar Grove American Legion; Warren Flasher the manager, George Savko the assistant for Sugar Grove Merchants; Gid Van Ord and John Dudgeon, manager and assistant for Lander Auxiliary.

Sponsors for Babe Ruth teams were Lander Volunteers, with Walter Yeskey and Don Van Ord as managers; Sugar Grove Volunteers, in charge of Richard St. Clair.

There were about 200 boys and parents on hand for the roast and social time which marked unofficial closing of the season.

Introducing --- Grid Coach

“ROCK” DENNING

Francis Rock Denning, St. Bonaventure '33 graduate, will head Bradford Owls grid team for seventh season. Nickname "Rock" was secured from a short stretch of boxing at St. Bonaventure.

Rock was also a member of the college football and basketball teams.

He coached football and basketball at St. Bernards high in Bradford four years, moving to Bradford High in 1942 as assistant coach in football and basketball. Head mentorship of the grid squad was acquired in '51.

Married, Francis is the father of six children—four prospective gridders and two daughters. As a matter of fact, his oldest son, Charlie, is a junior in High school this year and is a member of his father's squad.

According to Denning, concerning this season's outlook, "We expect to have a fair team with veteran backs in Paul Bates, Mark Kline, Mike Pascarella and Carl Spehar. Also two experienced linemen in Dick Peterson, tackle, and Gary Shoemaker, center."

Owls open their season Friday at Johnsonburg. They host Warren Dragons October 17, night.

Pirates Stamp Themselves Surprise Team of the Year

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 10 telling days are over for the Pittsburgh Pirates. But if the Bucs missed a storybook finish in that span, they did no less than stamp themselves baseball's surprise team of 1958 and make Danny Murtaugh a top choice as the National League Manager of the year.

In a 10-day showdown, the Pirates faced their final seven games with the first place Milwaukee Braves. They trailed by 7½ games when it started, lost two of three at Milwaukee and

Senators Certain To Be in Capital Another Season

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Calvin Griffith, with an ax over his head, decided after all not to seek American League approval to move his baseball club out of Washington.

Instead, the Senators will remain in the nation's capital at least through the 1959 season.

Until late Sunday the son of night in a statement issued on the eve of a scheduled American League meeting purportedly to listen to and act upon his expected request for permission to move the Senators to Minneapolis.

Until late yesterday the son of the late Clark Griffith had fully intended to go through with his plan to seek the sanction of his fellow club owners to quit Washington. He had what he considered a generous offer from the Minnesota city, which recently approved a nine-million-dollar bond issue in its bid to attract a big league baseball team.

But less than an hour after his arrival here, Griffith became aware of the solid opposition lined up against him. At least four clubs were prepared to oppose him. That is two more than the votes necessary to block any franchise shift attempt.

They came out with a 3-1 edge in the series, holding the world champions to an 11-11 standoff for the season with a doubleheader split in the finale Sunday. They won 4-1 after Warren "The Wonder" Spahn had taken the opener 3-1 for the Braves, his 19th victory.

It was the last chance anybody had of catching the Braves, who lead by 7½ with 16 games to play. But the Pirates, who have finished last or next to last for the past eight years, went a long way toward nailing down second place, taking a two-game lead over third place San Francisco.

The Chicago Cubs swept a pair from the Giants 6-4 and 4-1. Los Angeles hammered St. Louis 7-5 and Cincinnati grabbed a 2½-game hold on fourth place by taking two at Philadelphia 6-4 and 9-2.

Spahn's 243rd victory in the majors put him within one of his ninth 20-victory season—a record for southpaws in the big time.

Spahn battled in a tie with Ron Kline (12-14) until Wes Covington, who singled home a run in the first, rapped a two-run double in the eighth.

Vern Law (12-11) then blanked the Braves, who chopped their magic number to 10, on four hits before needing relief in the nightcap ninth. Lew Burdette (16-10) was the loser.

Worker Revived After Electric Shock Succumbs

TUSCUMBIA, Ala. (AP) — Joe Hubbert, 21, who was brought back to life after apparently being dead for 28 minutes Thursday, died Saturday.

The young construction worker received a 7,000-volt electric shock when a power winch truck with which he was working came in contact with a high tension line. The physician who launched the emergency effort that brought Hubbert back from apparent death was at his side when he died.

Dr. John Mims said it appeared that brain damage due to lack of oxygen caused the death of Hubbert.

Mims was summoned to pronounce Hubbert dead when he was brought to the Colbert County Hospital. But because he was young and the nature of the accident, he decided to fight for his life.

Mims and three other doctors went to work. Surgeons opened Hubbert's chest and massaged his heart. An internist administered stimulating drugs. An anesthesiologist breathed air into his lungs.

Friday Hubbert responded to sounds and moved his eyes, but did not speak. It never was known if he had regained consciousness.

He had been without a heart beat and had not breathed for 28 minutes when the doctor began trying to save his life. Normally brain damage is suffered if heart action halts for five minutes or more.

South started to dig his grave with his two-heart bid, but everything would have been fine if North had left the four-spade double in as he should have.

No one can blame West for his opening lead of the queen of trumps although it turned out that only a spade lead would have set South at his ban contract.

South took his king of hearts and led a club to dummy's ace. West dropped the king and the ten of clubs was led from dummy. East and South played low and West trumped.

A spade was led and ruffed in dummy and South played a trump to his ace. When both opponents followed, South showed his hand and explained that he would cash his queen of clubs, ruff a spade to get to dummy and discard three more spades on dummy's good clubs. He conceded one spade trick at the finish and his grave remains open for the next time he overcalls at the two level with a four card suit.

Tennessee Man Says He Was Given Answer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Rev. Charles E. (Stoney) Jackson of Tullahoma, Tenn., said Friday he was given the answer to a question on the $64,000 Challenge television show.

The minister and sometimes sports promoter said the answer enabled him to win. But he emphasized he was not told the question would be asked. He said it was given him when he failed to answer a question during a pre-program briefing and the question turned up on the show.

"You can't accuse the people who produce the quiz shows of anything criminal," he said. Jackson, who picked up $4,000 on the $64,000 Challenge and $16,000 on the $64,000 Question quiz shows said he saw "no collusion of any kind" in operating the $64,000 Question.
